Mary Ann Pacelli
Senior Business Consultant and Special Program Manager
Workforce
MAGNET

Mary Ann Pacelli is currently a senior business consultant and special program manager for Workforce at MAGNET (the Manufacturing Advocacy and Growth Network). She joined MAGNET in March of 1998 to develop MAGNET's Workforce and Organizational Development services. As the program manager, she coordinated efforts for new business development and the delivery of training and consulting services to area manufacturers designed to improve performance of the organization. Currently, she is instrumental in securing new accounts for MAGNET Consulting Services, delivery of specific customized training programs, identifying alternative funding sources, and managing special projects.

Through over 20 years of professional experience, Ms. Pacelli's specialization includes Project design and management, Job and Task Analysis, Skills Assessments, organizational Assessment, Employee Selection and Development programs, and customized training design. She is also trained to lead Lean Kaizen events.

Ms. Pacelli's experience in Workforce Development in the Northeast Ohio area comes as a result of working for Cuyahoga Community College's Corporate Services Division, and the Council for Adult and Experiential Learning (CAEL), a Chicago based education and training firm. Over the years, she has served numerous area businesses by assessing their needs and designing and delivering customized programs to improve employee performance.

Ms. Pacelli has a B.S./B.A. in marketing from John Carroll University and a master's degree, Education in Adult Learning and Development from Cleveland State University.
